COMPROMISE OFFER MADE

Insurgents Would End Deadlock in the Senate.

URGE DROPPING OF CUMMINS

Threat Behind the Offer to Bring About the Election of a Democrat as Chairman of Interstate Commerce Committee—Senators Couzens and Howell Acceptable to the LaFollette Group.

Washington, Dec. 14.—A definite offer of compromise to end the senate deadlock over the election of the chairman of the interstate commerce committee was made to the Republican leaders by the LaFollette group, which has succeeded in blocking the selection of Senator Cummins.

The offer was that if the Republican leaders will agree to drop Cummins and support either Senator Couzens of Michigan or Senator Howell of Nebraska, the LaFollette group will turn over their seven votes and insure the election of one or the other. If this deal went through, the 40 votes given to Cummins, plus the seven LaFollette votes, would be sufficient to elect a chairman.

Republican leaders indicated no willingness to accept the compromise offer, which was agreed upon by the LaFollette group after a long conference in Senator Norris' office.

Behind the offer was the threat of the LaFollette block to bring about the election of Senator Smith of South Carolina, Democrat, unless the Republicans would yield. There were several incidents which strengthened the LaFollette men in making such a threat. First of all was the rumor that Senator Couzens himself was weakening in his support of Cummins and had declared openly that when the next ballot is taken he will vote for Smith unless the Republicans find some other way of breaking the deadlock. Couzens was reported to have stated that he was tired of such "child's play" and would not stick by Cummins any longer, unless he could be elected.

Another incident which figures in the extension of the compromise offer was the possibility that LaFollette himself might be on hand next Monday to cast his vote in favor of Smith, thereby bringing about his election. LaFollette sent word to the capitol that Smith was entirely satisfactory to him, that his vote on the Esch-Cummins law was "regular" and that if LaFollette could not be elected, he would be glad to see Smith made chairman.

If LaFollette is able to vote Smith's election would be made certain, unless other Democrats followed the example set by Bruce of Maryland in deserting the Democratic candidate and voting for Cummins.

In the conference of LaFollette supporters there was some discussion of Senator Howell of Nebraska in addition to Senator Couzens as a compromise candidate. Howell voted for LaFollette on every ballot, whereas Couzens supported Cummins. Both Howell and Couzens have strong views on the transportation question, leaning toward public ownership.

ASKS FOR $25,000

Witter Would Put Compensation Amendment Into Operation.

Columbus, Dec. 14.—Director of Industrial Relations Witter has asked the state emergency board for an appropriation of at least $25,000 to put into operation provisions for accident prevention and investigation in the workmen's compensation amendment adopted at the November election. At the same time Governor Donahey asked Attorney General Crabbe for a ruling whether the governor could put this requested fund under control of the industrial commission, instead of the industrial relations director.

Donahey also asked for a ruling whether he could, by executive order, place all employees in the workman's compensation division of the industrial relations department under the control of the industrial commission, and whether such designation would transfer to the commission the appropriations made for this work by the legislature to the industrial relations department.

Control over employees in the compensation division was taken from the industrial commission by the Davis reorganization code.

DRAFT RESTORED

American Association and Pacific Coast League Sign Agreement.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—The draft was restored to baseball under an agreement reached among the two major leagues, the Pacific Coast league and the American association. The two class AA leagues agreed to a modified draft as presented to them by the majors last year. Under it all optional agreement players and players purchased outright from the major league clubs by the minor leagues are subject to the draft. The price was again set at $5,000. Players developed by the minor leagues and without major league experience are not subject to the draft. The International league refused to take part in the discussion and is not bound by the agreement.

JOHNSON CONDEMNS COMMITTEE'S ACTION

Increase in Number of Southern Delegates Rouses Senator.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Senator Hiram Johnson denounced the action of the Republican national committee in enlarging the apportionment of delegates from southern states as a "repudiation of instructions given by the last national convention."

"The campaign commences with an act repugnant to every sense of fair dealing and just representation," the senator said in a formal statement issued from his office after a long conference with Frank H. Hitchcock, his campaign manager.

Senator Johnson analyzed the effects of the committee's ruling, charging that states which have never cast an electoral vote for the Republican nominees have been given power in the convention equal to that of states which have always been Republican. Because of the "unfair and unjust" representation from southern states in the conventions and the scandals connected with delegates from certain of these states, the convention in 1920 instructed the national committee to adopt a reasonable and just basis of representation, the senator said. This was done, he continued, but the convention's instructions have been disregarded by the committee in its latest action increasing the number of southern delegates.

Senator Johnson declared that notwithstanding the committee's action, he is going ahead rapidly with his plans to make a fight in all the states where presidential primaries are to be held. He announced that Senator Peter Norbeck will head the list of delegates on the South Dakota ballot supporting his candidacy.

Demands Real Rest Room.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Representative Frank Clark, veteran Democrat of Florida, rose in the house and voiced a vigorous protest against an ancient rule which prohibits members from having lounges and such comforts in their offices. Clark said with great feeling: "I regard this rule as a reflection upon the honor and integrity of the members of this house. I bring up the matter now, so that a committee having in charge the furnishing of the offices may take into consideration the necessity for members to have some means of resting a few minutes during the day."

FEDERALS QUIT TWO TOWNS

Evacuation Ordered in Pursuance of Battle Plans.

SANGUINARY STRUGGLE LOOMS

General Amaro's Federal Army About to Engage General Estrada's Rebel Forces in the Vicinity of Guadalajara, in the State of Jalisco—Rebels May Attack the Port of Tampico, Mexican Situation.

Tampico, Mexico, Dec. 14.—Withdrawal by the federal forces from Esperanza, situated on the summit of the mountains forming the border between the states of Vera Cruz and Puebla, is not construed as a rebel victory, according to authoritative information.

Likewise the surrender of the town of Oriental, at the juncture of the states of Tlaxcala and Vera Cruz, is not regarded seriously.

It is declared here in military circles that the evacuation of both points without resistance is probably in pursuance of battle plans for Obregon forces. While Esperanza is at the topmost point of the mountains and overlooking a broad stretch of plains extending towards the national capital, it is a long way to Mexico City, as a spokesman said.

Interest now centers in the forthcoming clash in the vicinity of Guadalajara, in the state of Jalisco, between the forces of General Joaquin Amaro, leading the federals, and General Enrique Estrada, commanding the Huertistas. Guadalajara is the second largest city in the nation, and it is believed a sanguinary struggle will follow when the troops meet, which will probably occur within 24 hours.

General Benecio Lopez, chief of military operations in Tampico and provisional governor of Tamaulipas, approved a junta government succeeding the resigned mayor and councilmen. The new commission will function pending the induction of regularly elected officials in January.

General Lopez is continuing his efforts to conciliate the striking electricians in Tampico, and has succeeded in establishing operation of the tramways and street lighting, but electricity in the homes and for pumping water for commercial uses has not been restored.

H. S. Leach, manager of the electric company, is expected to sail for the United States. He is being deported by presidential decree as a "pernicious foreigner."

Tampico, being next in importance to Vera Cruz, it is not believed that the revolutionaries can succeed without gaining control of this port. The only possibility of attack would be from the gulf by gunboats, which are affiliated with the Huertistas. The number of ships which revolted at Vera Cruz is not known, but the total force is only about eight boats, which probably would be ineffectual.

TO SOUND FRANCE

Germany Would Know Conditions For Reparations Settlement.

Berlin, Dec. 14.—Germany is about to ask France to name the conditions for a reparations settlement and to state definitely what she intends to do with the Rhineland and Ruhr.

Former Minister Stresemann declared he will ask Premier Poincare whether he intends to keep the Ruhr and Rhineland permanently or only as pawns; and whether the committee of the reparations commission shall investigate the ability to pay of Germany, including the Rhineland and Ruhr, or of a rump Germany without the occupied regions. The aim of this is to start negotiations between Berlin and Paris concerning the investigation through the reparations commission. Stresemann declared that France is not averse to suggestions, in view of the statements in the press that Germany should make a new reparations offer and appoint a new ambassador to France.

Pastor's Wife a Witness.

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 14.—"I do not like his kisses, but it would be nice to handle his money," is what Miss Louise V. Dodge, New York business woman, who is suing James A. Goodrich, attorney, for $150,000 breach of promise, is alleged to have told her confidante, Mrs. Clayton J. Potter, wife of a local pastor. Mrs. Potter was a witness for the defense. She said she had several conversations with Miss Dodge and was familiar with the fact that she frequently met Mr. Goodrich at his home.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Couple In Hospital.

Canton, O., Dec. 14.—Irmie Popa, 35, and his wife, Mary, 35, are in the Canton hospital suffering from wounds said to have been inflicted by Popa. Popa is not expected to live, though his wife will recover, physicians say. The couple had separated. Popa is said to have gone to his wife's residence and shot her through the shoulder, later turning the gun on himself.

Charged With Bigamy.

Cleveland, Dec. 14.—Percy Brittain, charged with assault and forcible marriage by his second wife, who said she married him only under the persuasive influence of a revolver, is under arrest. Police took him into custody on a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Minnie Lewis Brittain, recently of Akron. A new warrant was sworn out charging Brittain with bigamy.

No Evidence of Foul Play.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 14.—Coroner L. E. Grimes and Prosecutor C. A. Maxwell conducted a formal inquest into the death of Roy Murphy, who died from a knife wound at the Elliott school social Nov. 27. Nothing to indicate foul play was disclosed. Death from an accidentally self-inflicted wound was the coroner's verdict.

Must Die In Chair.

Cadiz, O., Dec. 14.—Mike Sepich, Duncanwood, must die in the electric chair for the murder of his wife, according to a decision of the Seventh district court of appeals. Sepich had appealed from the verdict of the Harrison county jury, which found him guilty of first degree murder.

Gored to Death.

Sandusky, O., Dec. 14.—Vernon H. Hill, 40, farmer, was gored to death at his home west of Castalia, near here, by a vicious bull, which attacked him when he entered a field to feed stock penned there. Hill's chest was crushed and he was otherwise injured.

Insanity Plea For Fox.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 14.—The defense in the case of Philip E. Fox, on trial for the murder of William S. Coburn, entered a plea of insanity. The plea was in an address by Frank A. Hooper, Sr., attorney for defense, who reviewed Fox's life and declared "there existed traces of insanity in the defendant's family." Mr. Hooper declared that Fox was suffering from overwork and that "he was not in a sane mind when he shot down the attorney."

Edwin C. McWatty, president of the McWatty Corset company, fell eight stories from his window of the Hotel Royal, New York, and was instantly killed.

WANT AMERICA TO HOLD ALOOF

Republican Senators Against Reparations Proposal.

ARE SKEPTICAL OF RESULTS

Extension of The Hague Tribunal to Make It a Real World Court Favored by All Republican Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Save Lenroot, Who Fosters Hughes' Proposal.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Republican leaders in the senate are not only opposed to American participation in the reparations adjustment, but have taken unkindly the suggestion from the president that "unofficial experts" should represent the United States in the conference.

Republican members of the foreign relations committee have failed to see that any good might come of it, and at the same time have been unable to learn exactly what the president's proposal means.

In addition to this, all of the Republican members of the committee, with the possible exception of Lenroot of Wisconsin, are opposed to the president's proposal to put the United States into the world court created by the league of nations. Nine of the 10 Republicans favor extension of The Hague tribunal to make it a real world court, but will fight any proposal for American membership in a court in any way affiliated with the league.

Senator Lenroot follows Secretary Hughes in believing that the United States can join the league court and become a member of it, and at the same time protect itself with a "reservation" denying that membership in the league court means that the United States has anything to do with the league. Lenroot introduced a resolution to join the court on these terms the day after President Coolidge delivered his message, and after showing Hughes a draft of the resolution.

While none of the other Republicans on the committee accept the view of Hughes and Lenroot that the United States can join the league court and still not be part of it, Lenroot intends to do what he can to get his resolution acted upon. Lodge, Brandegee, Moses, Borah, Johnson, McCormick, Wadsworth, Pepper and Willis are against him, however, and also against the president in his support of the Hughes idea of a world court. If anything whatever comes out of the committee's discussions of the court idea, it will be solely along the lines of building up The Hague tribunal, already in existence, and conferring upon it powers which might have some effect upon maintenance of world peace.

NO TRACE OF KORETZ

Millions Reported Entrusted to the Missing Promoter.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Chicagoans whose names are familiar on bank directories and in exclusive clubs held their breath as the story of Leo S. Koretz, lawyer and promoter, was unfolded. Koretz is gone, leaving no accounting that the authorities can find of millions entrusted to him. The amount involved was variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. Every hour brought fresh reports of investments made through Koretz, who is being hunted by land, on the sea and in the air. But no trace has been found. While the hunt went on relatives of the missing promoter came forward and offered to restore $300,000 they had accumulated through Koretz.

The tropics appealed to Koretz. It was for ventures in Panama and the southern part of the United States that the vast sums of money were entrusted to him. Oil, rice and lumber were the great products used by Koretz to fire the imagination of his friends and cause them to want to "get in on the ground floor," according to the state's attorney. They were really three corporations, one for the development of each of the products.

Strike In Austria Ended.

Vienna, Dec. 14.—The strike of Austrian civil service employees in the postoffices, telegraphs and telephone department has come to an end. An agreement was reached between the committee of the strikers and the government, but it is subject to approval by the employees' union. The issue in the strike which kept Austria paralyzed and isolated for three days was a question of wage increase of $1 a month.

GAVE SUICIDE PARTY

Girl Artist Leaps From Fifth Story of New York Hotel.

New York, Dec. 14.—Anita Sutcliffe, 23, artist and very beautiful, gave a suicide luncheon to 26 girl friends at the Hotel Brevoort. Sitting at the head of the table, amid jollity and laughter, Anita suddenly announced: "Girls, I'm going on a long, long journey."

The guests took chairs in the parlors, discussing Anita's wonderful trip that she was going to make to "somewhere." And while they talked Anita had started climbing the Brevoort's stairs. When she reached the fifth floor she stepped on a fire escape. A second later she crashed through the top of a sedan, five stories below her. Passing detectives rushed her into a commandeered automobile to St. Vincent's hospital. Her right arm and right wrist were fractured, and she may have internal injuries. Physicians say she has a fair chance of life.

Lord Douglas Found Guilty.

London, Dec. 14.—Lord Alfred Douglas was found guilty of libeling Winston Churchill and sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Lord Alfred charged that Churchill, while secretary of the navy, had falsified a communique issued after the battle of Jutland.

THEIR FIRST FUNCTION

President and Mrs. Coolidge Entertain Diplomatic Corps.

Washington, Dec. 14.—President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained at their first state function last night—a reception to the diplomatic corps. The white house took on a color and brightness not seen since the days of 1914, when the world was plunged into war. Foreign diplomats in court dress, their wives in the latest Paris creations, army and navy officers in their gaudy dress uniforms, jewelry worth a king's ransom, and gold braid, made the scene one of unprecedented splendor.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge received their guests in the celebrated blue room after a long established custom. At their left were the secretary of state and Mrs. Hughes, and the cabinet officers, according to their rank. The French ambassador and Mrs. Jusserand, dean of the diplomatic corps by virtue of longest service in Washington, were the first to be received.

Seed Corn Shortage Seen.

Columbus, Dec. 14.—Farm crop specialists at Ohio State university say Ohio farmers will face a seed corn shortage next spring almost as severe as that of 1918, unless more than the usual precautions are taken now. It is pointed out that corn fields in nearly all parts of the state so far this fall have produced corn inferior in quality and with a dangerously high moisture content. Early frosts caused the high moisture content, and a severe wind storm in some parts of Ohio helped to lower the quality.

It's All in the Day

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"OH, DEAR, nothing ever happens to me," sighed Milly, as she made her way down to the office, "and now the boss is going bankrupt. I wish—she paused in her mental speech—I wish somebody would run away with me, fat, thin, old, young, married or single."

Kramer had a small office, but did a large business. Milly was his stenographer, and there were two or three other girls, but they didn't count. Milly was "it," as far as Kramer was concerned.

She opened the morning's letters, and whistled as she saw the return address on one of the envelopes which she did not open. That was Kramer's private business. Milly knew Kramer was running a good many sidelines.

She was waiting for him when he came in. She saw by the look on his face that the worst had happened. He dictated a few letters and then laid down his papers.

"Miss James," he said, "I'm finished. I'm hopelessly in debt. I can't face the racket. I'm going to beat it West tonight."

"I'm sorry," said Milly vaguely. "Do I get my pay?"

"The other girls do. Not you."

"How's that?" asked Milly.

"Because I'm going to take you with me," answered Kramer.

"But—but I thought you were married?" stammered Milly.

"So I am. Too much married. But I had the devil's row with my wife this morning over the household expenses, and I'm through with her. She's never been a wife to me. I want you instead. What do you say?"

"Nothing doing," said Milly, though she remembered her wish of that morning and was sorely tempted. She was very fond of Kramer.

"Just as you say," said Kramer after a pause. "I guess you get your money, then."

"You see," said Milly, "it wouldn't work out. I know all about that sideline. You'd get tired of me. What's the matter with your wife? She looks all right to me."

"Oh, there's nothing much the matter with her, except that I'm sick of her," said Kramer. "I suppose I'll have to go alone, then."

"Why don't you try to face things? Isn't there any chance?"

"Not the ghost of one. If I could have sold that patent I was interested in I'd have enough money to fix things fine. But they haven't even had the courtesy to answer my letter about it."

"Who?"

"Why, the Renault company."

"Oh, I meant to give you this letter from them," said Milly, placing it on his desk.

Kramer grabbed at it and opened it. Next moment he emitted a whoop of delight.

"Read that, you girl!" he shouted.

"Keep cool," said Milly. "I'm not the only girl in this joint. They'll think you're murdering me."

She read the letter. It was from the Renault company, and they stated that they had been investigating the matter of the patent, were satisfied that it was a good commercial proposition, and were willing to pay the sum Kramer had asked.

"Whoopee!" said Kramer. "I fixed that figure as a bluff. Never thought they'd fall for it. Expected half as much. That puts everything to rights. Your salary's raised ten dollars a week after this month—no, after next."

A tap at the door interrupted them. A tall, handsome, stately looking woman appeared upon the threshold.

"Dan, I must have some money, and it's no use talking," she said.

Dan Kramer arose from his desk, seized the tall, handsome, stately looking woman around the waist, and waltzed her protestingly around the office.

"Have you gone madder than usual, Dan?" she asked.

"No, honey, we're going to be millionaires in a few months, that's all," said Dan. "You know Miss James."

stenographer? I want you two to get acquainted. We're going to take her out to lunch. Ready, Miss James?"

"Oh, I guess so," answered Milly. "It's all in the day's work, Mr. Kramer."

A Siam at Dad.

The daughter of a certain strict-principled old deacon had attended a dance the previous night, much against her father's wishes. When she appeared for breakfast the next morning, he greeted her with the words:

"Good morning, daughter of Satan."

To which the maiden respectfully replied:

"Good morning, father."—Cornell Widow.

Keep Up Your Confidence.

The majority of failures began to deteriorate by doubting or depreciating themselves or by losing confidence in their own ability. The moment you harbor doubt and begin to lose faith in yourself you capitulate to the enemy. Every time you acknowledge weakness, inefficiency or lack of ability you weaken your self-confidence, and that is to undermine the very foundation of all achievement.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago Daily News.

Benefit in Wearing Glasses.

Wearing glasses does not weaken the eyes. This effect is apparent because the eye gives up straining and reveals the full necessity for glasses. Often eyes become so strengthened by the rest thus given that after a time the glasses are no longer needed.

Strictly Business.

CHARLES I LED IN ARTCRAFT

Declared He Could Make His Living at Any Trade Save That of Hanging.

"Little Korea, now being urged by its leaders to use only articles of Korean manufacture," says Horace B. Cheney, "is advocating nationalism in art and industry today just as Charles I did during his reign.

"The Jacobean period of decoration has been called the most distinctly national of the English periods; for while largely inspired by Low Country models, it was yet developed originally by English craftsmen. And these had displaced the foreign workers of Elizabethan times.

"The Jacobean period was ushered in with James I, 'The Wisest Fool in Christendom,' but not until the times of Charles, 'saint and martyr,' were its possibilities of beauty fully developed.

"Charles was the spirit of its efflorescence. He, like Francis I and Lorenzo the Magnificent, loved beauty for its own sake. Indeed, he was himself a craftsman, saying of himself, 'I believe I could make my living by any trade save that of making hangings.' The friend of Rubens, the patron of the brilliant Van Dyck, a connoisseur who was also a king—and yet a king, alas, 'who knew all the arts except the art of governing.'

"In his reign, the turned and twisted woodwork of his father's day came to a softer, more delicately crafted beauty, and the characteristics of modern renaissance ornament manifested themselves in geometrically patterned arrangements and a growing use of inlay. The great hall (still the most important feature of the majestic English home), was then indeed a thing of stately splendor—rich with tapestries and hangings, warm with paneling, exquisite with ornamental ceilings, mantelpieces and lofty bay windows."

Great Variety of New Fall Models

Dame Fashion Offers Many Numbers; Any Taste Can Be Satisfied.

That extremely useful and becoming "little black and white frock" is from all accounts the most favored Parisian creation of the moment, observes a fashion correspondent in the Milwaukee Sentinel. Its simplicity and practicality endear it at once to the woman of moderate income and good taste. Any number of quaint and unusual little touches are permissible so long as that simplicity is left intact; for this is the frock that is as much at home on the street as in the tea room of a particularly smart hotel.

Another frock is of black satin, with a normal waistline, slightly circular skirt and long fitted sleeves. Its distinctive touch of white is in the three frills of plaited organdie which adorn the lower part of the sleeve. Each point is a fashion feature in itself.

Another model is of black flat crepe; the skirt is made with two uneven tiers and a straight hemline. The bodice is perfectly straight and belted low with a narrow belt of self material, and the smart collar and cuffs are of white organdie edged with footing and fastened with small crystal buttons.

Never were fabrics more beautiful than those which will be worn this season. The new weaves have arrived, a forecast of a generous mode that the fall trend of fashion brings—laces, velvets, twills, brocades, satins and plaided wool.

Serge occupies a cherished position, but this season it is called "twill," under various names. A very fine-grained twill is known as cardinette, and closely resembles Poret twill. Charmeen seems to be the favored fabric for dresses, both the plain coat dress and the more elaborately tiered, flounced and braided types. It is a fine—oh, ever so fine—twill, in navy, brown, black and gray.

Easy to Make Vanity Table for Your Room

When a woman has learned the secret of remodeling and redecorating her furniture, she can revel in fixing up her home to her heart's content. The vogue for hand painting a piece of furniture started by being a necessity, and has ended up by becoming a favorite pastime.

Nowadays, many women are even making their own furniture. One of the daintiest dressing tables imaginable can be made out of a big, ordinary packing box. Simply remove one side of the box, install a few shelves, glue some material over the whole thing and trim it with decorative ribbon. This may be done by crossing two six-inch bands of satin ribbon over the top, tying a bow on each corner and allowing streamers to hang to the floor. Edge the curtains gathered across the opening of the box with shirred ribbon. If contrasting colors are used, the effect will be still prettier. Violet and lemon yellow, for example, combine to make an exquisite boudoir color arrangement. Cover the wooden frame of an ordinary mirror with ribbon, suspend it over the disguised box with ribbon streamers and behold! you have a vanity table fit for a princess.

All of the toilet accessories on the table can also be ribbon trimmed. The most satisfactory way to put the material on the wooden box and the ribbon on the mirror and toilet articles is to use glue. The best quality of liquid glue is perfectly safe and is easier and quicker than sewing.

OHIO TEACHERS

Superintendent Eagleson Will Make an Address at Columbus Meeting.

"The Young Teacher" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Professor J. O. Eagleson, superintendent of Circleville schools before the City Superintendents Department at the winter meeting of the Ohio Teachers' association to be held in Columbus city, December 26-28. Professor Charles S. Meek, superintendent of schools at Toledo, will preside.

The meeting promises to be one of the most important in the history of the association because of the prominence of the speakers and the deep interest shown in the subjects to be discussed. During the administration of President R. F. Kiefer of Niles, the association has taken in 5000 new members and hopes to have a total membership of 30,000 by the close of the school year in June. The organization is planning to take a more active part in public affairs in Ohio especially as they affect the schools and the teaching profession, permanent headquarters having been opened in Columbus with Secretary-Treasurer F. E. Reynolds in charge.

Announcement has just been made that the famous Aladdin Shrine chorus of Columbus, will sing for the teachers. President Harding was a member of Aladdin Temple and the chorus sang for him at the White House and at the Imperial Council of the Shrine in Washington last June. A concert by an All-State High School orchestra will be another musical feature of the gathering.

Early Paper Making.

Papyrus, from which the word paper is derived, is not paper at all, and the beginnings of the paper industry are not traced back to it, but to the genuine paper made by the Chinese, from whom it spread to other races and then to Europe in the twelfth century. About the year 1150 a paper mill was started at Fabriano, Italy, which became the principal center for paper making, continuing to the present day. From Italy the art spread to France and Germany and somewhat later to England.

When Woman Proposes.

It was not leap year when Queen Victoria offered her heart and hand to Prince Albert, whom etiquette prevented from proposing to the queen of England, but Sir Robert Peel declared that his sovereign was "as full of love as Juliet," and the marriage, which was solemnized in leap year, proved a union of perfect bliss.

Loses Hard Fought Game to West Park Baracas Thursday Night.

In one of the best and fastest games of basket ball ever, the local quintet lost a heart breaking game of basket ball to the West Park Baracas Thursday night.

It was one of those games over which there will always be a doubt as to whether or not the visitors really were entitled to a victory, since the referee's decision on one play in the latter part of the game gave the visitors two points which spectators say they were not entitled to. Rather or not the referee's decision was correct is the question. Most of those present say not but the decision was made and stands and we can do no more than say the best team last and be satisfied.

The local quintet played flawless basketball thruout showing a fighting unsurpassable, scoring nineteen of the total points earned but it was made possible for him to do this by the earnest cooperation of the other players on the team. Hoover showing up best for the visitors.

It is to be lamented that the boys had to loose the game on a fluke but we can console ourselves by saying: "For when the one great scorer comes To write against our name He writes not that we won or lost But how we played the game."

Every Man Will Have One!

Sedentary workers—those who sit at their work—especially might note that if they have the habit of crossing their legs, then can't break themselves of it, they should have a clean duster, or a remnant of soft cloth, and lay it on the under leg. That at once stops the shine and wear that follows "crossing." And, as a duster is not always at hand, and "crossing" is always a temptation, best to cut the crossing habit clean out. FIRE ON COURT STREET.

Smoke filled the home of Miss Sallie Lynch, 119 South Court street today. On investigation Miss Lynch found the cellar door in the rear of her home on fire. She quickly extinguished the blaze and called the fire department by telephone, thinking perhaps the fire had got between the weatherboarding, but this was not the case. The only way that the blaze could have started was from a pile of trash Miss Lynch had burned in the yard early this morning. The damage done by the blaze was slight.

AMUSEMENTS

Agnes Ayres' latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Heart Raider," proved to be a delightfully entertaining production at its premier at the Metropolitan theater last evening.

This picture, a light comedy of love and adventure directed by Wesley Ruggles, is an ideal vehicle for Miss Ayers. The star, in the role of Muriel Gray, a speedy girl member of the fast social set at Palm Beach is known as one who gets everything she sets her heart on. And when she decides to win John Dennis, a wealthy bachelor, he turns her down. When he decides to escape in his yacht, she swims out to the vessel and on getting aboard induces the captain to permit her to remain. When Dennis discovers her the next morning, dressed in a bathing suit and sou-wester, he decides to put her ashore. A severe storm arises, and then follow several thrilling scenes and a decidedly novel climax.

Supporting the star is a superb cast which includes among others, Mahlon Hamilton, Charles Ruggles, Frazer Coulter, Marie Burke and Charles Riegel.

"Palmy Days."

The origin of the phrase, "palmy days," arises from a custom of the ancient Romans. A victorious gladiator received a palm branch as a symbolic reward for his brave deeds.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Benefit in Joy Giving.

When you once get started in joy giving it's easy to keep it up. The fact that you give joy brings comrades for your magic touch constantly before you. The returning benefits of having given joy keep your supplied with the means of joy giving. So you just direct the ever enlarging stream that through you ministers to your fellows. And your own joy increases with each new expression of your good will. The joy giving habit grows upon you and you would be perfectly miserable without the chance of helping others to happier days. It's real joy.—Grit

TOAST TO WORLD'S LAST WAR

Bottle of Ancient Wine to Be Passed On, to Be Drunk When Strife Ends.

When the world fights its last war, some veteran of an American war may drink a bottle of wine preserved for years for the coming of such an event.

The wine recently occupied the place of honor on the banquet table of the Last Man club, formed from the survivors of Company B, First Minnesota Volunteers, a Civil war organization. The club was formed thirty years ago, with 34 members. There was an understanding that a reunion should be held each year. The wine was presented to the club on its organization, and it was agreed that the last survivor should attend the banquet, and drink the rare old wine to the vacant chairs of his departed comrades.

This year only three were present at the meeting, which was held in Stillwater, Minn., on the anniversary of the battle of Bull Run. Peter Hall, president of the club, declared during the meeting that the requirements of the constitution would make the last occasion too sorrowful, and suggested another way to mark the passing of the organization. He offered a plan that the last two survivors should drink a toast, seal the remainder of the wine in the bottle, and pass it on to the American Legion in Stillwater, with similar stipulation as to its retention, or until all nations join to make war impossible. Thus, the Stillwater Legion men are expected to become possessors of the wine, perhaps to be passed on to some other veterans' organization founded from another American war.

Peter Hall, Atwater, Minn.; John Goff, a guest at the Minneapolis Soldiers' home; and Charles Lockwood, Chamberlain, S. D., were the guests at this year's meeting. One other survivor, Emil Graff, of St. Cloud, Fla., was kept from the meeting because of physical infirmities.

The unique event attracted national attention, and the proposal to pass on the rare wine to the American Legion, not to be touched until war has become impossible, has resulted in considerable speculation as to whether the World War veterans would drink the final toast.

ISSUES 'HOME LOAN' WARNING

Legion Officials Caution Oregon Veterans Against Assuming Too Heavy Financial Burdens.

Unscrupulous dealers in real estate are said to have taken advantage of former service men in the state of Oregon, which by law has provided for a "home loan" feature of compensation for veterans. Officials of the American Legion, to whom have been reported a number of instances in which the veteran has faced loss of his investment, have issued a communication to members of that organization, warning them against assuming too heavy a financial burden under the plan.

The law, as passed by the state legislature, was intended by its sponsors to finance the purchase of homes or farms for veterans, when they have sufficient income to carry the payments. According to the Legion leaders, certain real estate men are showing a tendency to depreciate or discount the loan of the veteran, or to demand additional cash down. Some firms have claimed that the plan outlined by the law was not feasible to handle, and that the business was conducted at a loss.

There have been 400 bonus loans in Oregon to date, according to the records of the state officials. Of this number, only seven veterans face foreclosure on property, a refutation of the statement that realty dealers had found the plan unsuccessful.

The principal difficulty has been, Legion investigators say, to keep the veterans from paying too much for homes or farms. Payments on property selling at $5,000 or more are heavy, and veterans are urged to consider the fact that in case they have put a second mortgage on their place to a realty dealer, they must pay the state a certain sum in addition to that due the real estate man.

SUPPORT OF LEGION ASSURED

Religious and Fraternal Organizations Pledge Aid to Work of World War Men.

Unanimous support by numerous religious and fraternal organizations of the American Legion was pledged at a recent meeting of these groups held in Washington. A resolution adopted at the gathering quoted the preamble to the Legion's constitution, and then continued:

"We heartily approve this statement and the American Legion as a great organization composed of men and women who served their country in the World War, earnestly hoping that they will continue to serve their country in time of peace with the same patriotic devotion that animated them in the days when they wore the uniform. We pledge them our cordial support, wishing them all success and every blessing as they pursue these high ideals."

Organizations joining in the tribute were the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Young Men's Christian association, American Red Cross and National Catholic Welfare Council.

Too High Up to See Him.

A man about town meeting a friend who had recently become a judge extended his congratulations and then said: "And I will now tell you good-bye."

"Why," asked his honor; "are you going away?"

"No."

"Neither am I. So why this good-bye?"

"It is this way," explained the party of the first part. "I have known many men who became judges, governors or what not. After their elevation very few of them were able to see me again."

Jeanette always expects something when her father comes home. One day just as he entered she said: "What have you got today, daddy?" He gave her a package of gum and said: "That is for you and brother." She gratefully nodded her head and said: "Oh, thank you. I'll divide with brother, but I'll be the guard keeper."

It was first applied to Andrew Borde, physician to Henry VIII. He was very learned and very eccentric, and in order to instruct the people he used to address them at fairs and other crowded places. Those who imitated his wit and droll tricks, though not possessing his genius, were called Merry Andrews.

SEATTLE HEALTHY CITY FOR BABES

Has Lowest Mortality in the United States.

RATE FOR THE YEAR IS 49

Of the twenty-five largest cities in the United States, all of more than 250,000 population, Seattle, Wash., was the healthiest for infants in 1922, according to infant mortality statistics, just published by the American Child Health association, of which Herbert Hoover is president.

Seattle's infant mortality rate for the year was 49, which means that that number of infants under one year of age died out of every thousand born. The next four cities in order were Minneapolis, 53; Portland, Ore., 54; San Francisco, 57, and St. Louis, 59.

The rate for New York city, including all five boroughs, was 75, and for Chicago, second largest city, 85. As well as having lowest rates, where the large cities were concerned, Western states also made the best average rates, when taking into consideration all cities of more than 10,000 population, of which there are 635 included in the report.

Oregon with four cities within this classification, had the best average rate, 58.6. Nine cities in the state of Washington were second with 58.9; eleven cities in Minnesota, third, with 60.3; twenty-five cities in California, fourth, with 64.6, and five cities in Nebraska, fifth, with 65.3.

The American Child Health association's report has become an annual compilation published to stimulate interest in measures to aid in the reduction of infant mortality the country over. The association is waging a vigorous campaign to arouse parents and teachers to a child health consciousness, and for a nation of healthier babies. Among its efforts are the distribution of scholarships for doctors, teachers and nurses in health work, and instructions, through teaching and literature, for the mother, and for the safe care of children from birth through the school age.

The twenty-five cities of more than 250,000 population ranked by infant mortality rate for 1922 were as follows:

Rank by Popula- tion.	City	Infant Mortal- ity Rate.

TAKES FIRST HORSE RIDE

School Teacher in Oregon Never Rode in Buggy.

It was not uncommon some years ago to hear of a man or woman who had never seen a steam engine or electric cars, but the present days it appears that an antithesis to the rule appears occasionally.

At a school district in Catherine Creek district east of Union, Ore., Miss Helen Cantine, twenty years old, a school teacher, never rode in a vehicle drawn by horses until recently, when she made a five-mile trip to attend a charivari, being conveyed the entire distance in a buggy. Miss Cantine, who formerly made her home in Portland, enjoyed the ride immensely. Miss Cantine is now taking horserback riding lessons and expects to be proficient in handling the reins within a short time.

BAN ON RABBIT IN GERMANY

Hungry Thieves Take Bunnies Inoculated With Germs.

Heidelberg, Germany, is passing through a "poisoned rabbit" scare. Stewed rabbit, formerly a popular dish at the students' boarding houses, and also among the professors of Heidelberg university, for the time is banned everywhere.

All this results from the act of hungry thieves who broke into the medical laboratories of the university recently and made away with two cages of rabbits which had been inoculated with typhoid and other germs.

Police have been instructed to shoot at sight any rabbit seen at large.

OLDTIME DOLLS

Display Case at Public Library of Much Interest to Little Folks.

The Circleville Public Library has a display case filled with things to interest the tiny tots--the favorite old fairy tales, nursery rhymes and modern stories in attractive picture books. These are the stories that delight the smallest children when read or told to them. The attractiveness of the exhibit is added to by illustrative toys loaned by Hamilton's, Wilder's Cash Store and Closson's. The exhibit case has been loaned to the library by Crist & Mason.

It is planned for next week to have an exhibit of old-time toys and trinkets that made Christmas for the children of long ago. If you have any, please telephone the library. Two doll cradles, one sixty and the other over a hundred years old, have been promised. Old-time dolls are especially wanted. What have you among your treasures?

Wanted a Demonstration.

Louise had the habit of running to her mother for a hug and a kiss at frequent intervals during the day. One day she stood before her mother, who was busy knitting, for some moments without getting any attention. Finally Louise said: "Do you love me, mamma?" "Yes, dear," from mother. Louise waited a moment longer without receiving the accustomed caress, then burst out with, "Well, why don't you love me by hand?"

Real Help.

It is the easiest thing in the world to turn a poor fellow off when he comes with a big lump in his heart by saying, "Here's a dollar. Go and have a good time with it." And all the time what he needs is a hand under his elbow and a lift over the road that is stony.

SCHOOL ANNUAL

Sale Contest is On—Next Book Will be of Special Interest.

A High School Annual selling campaign is now in progress in Circleville. The campaign is being carried on in the form of a contest between junior and senior classes. The class that sells the most annuals before Wednesday, December 19, will be allowed to have their flag on the school for two days. As would be expected much class spirit is being created and both sides are working hard to win the honors.

The reduction of the price makes it possible for more people to buy and naturally we expect a larger circulation this year than ever has been before. The size of the annual has been increased and every possible effort is being put forth to increase the quality of it. The 1924 annual will be of special interest to the alumni. The name, address and occupation of every person who has been graduated from the Circleville high school in the last ten years will be included in this volume. An annual is a reminder of the days gone by. It is a book that should be cherished by every true friend of the high school.

Remember that the sale of the Annuals is not limited to the high school pupils so be prepared to give your subscription to one of the salesman that will call on you before next Wednesday. 13dec23.

When the ink of old documents has faded and it is desired to restore it, this can be done by washing with any of the substances that blacken on mixing with iron—infusion of nutgalls, sodium-sulphide or acetic ferrocyanide of potassium, for instance.

CHRISTMAS TREE

Gifts May be Left at Hamilton & Ryan's Drug Store.

Our Community Christmas Tree needs your thought. It stands cold and bare awaiting the touch of Christmas goodwill to make it breathe the fellowship of the Christmas spirit. The committee in charge has designated Hamilton & Ryan's drug store as the receiving stations for the gifts of money and toys that are to make possible the transformation of the spirit which the tree symbolizes. Bring your toys, bring your contributions. Remind your thoughtless neighbor that he, too, has a part in our community celebration. When you see the Christmas tree jar in your grocery just remember that it is there to enable you to do your bit. It is for all of us to have our part in making the community our community. Do your Christmas giving early.

Bakes With Air and Dust.

A French inventor's smoke consumer for kitchen ranges admits air, superheats it and combining it with the coal gases and dust, causes them to burn.

Quinine.

Quinine is used in great quantities in the United States and an enormous sum is annually paid for the imported drug, most of which comes from South America, its source being the cinchona tree, which is found over an area of great diversity of soil and climate, the principal cinchona belt being a strip 100 miles wide and 2,000 miles long. Many trees are found growing at altitudes of 2,500 to 9,000 feet above sea level.

U. S. REFUGEES RESCUED
FROM REDS IN SIBERIA

Americans Flee Russian Guards and Land in Seattle.

Seattle, Wash.—Four American refugees from the Arctic coast of Siberia, rescued by the United States coast guard cutter Bear, after living for months in fear of Red guards, who threatened confiscation of their property and even death, arrived here recently on the coast guard cutter Haida. The four were: Carl Johnson, famous dog team racer of Nome, Alaska, and winner of the 1910 and 1911 Solomon Derby races, his Russian wife and their son, Chester, fourteen months old, and W. H. Parsons of Tacoma, Wash. Johnson and Parsons were employees of the Phoenix Northern Trading company of Tacoma, who were left at their posts in Siberia when the trading schooner Iskum escaped from Anadyr in defiance of soviet authorities.

Parsons was picked up by the Bear off East Cape, Siberia, as he was trying to escape to American waters in a small boat, braving the gales of the Arctic rather than remain in what he described as "daily fear of my life," at his post at Senalavine strait.

Parsons said thousands of dollars worth of valuable furs were confiscated at the two trading posts by Red guards, under pain of death if resistance was offered.

"Six soldiers, heavily armed," he said, "came to my post and read an order of confiscation. The officer in charge displayed a long revolver and warned me that I would be killed if I resisted. The order was signed by Governor Burke of the district, who was formerly connected, I was told, with the Russian consulate at San Francisco.

"We Americans prayed every day that an American vessel would come and rescue us. Every American in that part of Siberia is in some sort of trouble and virtually all of the cases have been 'framed.'"

"We heard innumerable grewsome stories of persons along the coast engaged in trading, who had mysteriously disappeared."

According to Parsons, the soldiers who seized the furs were conscript troops and wore no uniforms, although they were heavily armed.

Mr. Johnson went to Siberia three years ago and met his Russian wife at Indian Point, a remote post on the Arctic. There was no minister within 1,000 miles, but Captain Kelley Olsen, master of the Iskum, decided he could marry the couple on the high seas. A wedding party was formed and the little schooner worked its way out through the ice, past the three-mile limit, and the ceremony was performed.

Angler Lands 80-Pound
Fish After Hard Fight

Galveston, Tex.—Bathers at Galveston beach recently were given a free exhibition of the art of angling in its highest form when W. C. Dewyn, resident of the city, landed a huge 80-pound tarpon at the beach fishing pier after a struggle lasting 45 minutes.

The silver king was the first on record taken at the beach this year. The fish, in making long leaps from the water in efforts to free itself, caused a great commotion among bathers in the vicinity and bathing pleasures of the moment were given over to the greater attraction. Scales larger than silver dollars were torn from the monster by about 200 souvenir hunters who crowded around after the fish was landed.

In making the catch Mr. Dewyn used a regular tarpon tackle.

The fish is believed to be the largest of its kind landed in Galveston waters this season.

Fears Daughter-in-Law's
Cooking Will Kill Son

St. Clairville, Ohio.—An elderly woman called at the office of Prosecutor Herbert W. Mitchell recently and complained that her son, residing in a remote section of Belmont county, is being slowly starved to death because his bride won't use the same methods of cooking as employed by the mother-in-law. The latter wanted the prosecutor to interfere to save her son's life. Mitchell told the complainant that the young man should speak for himself to the bride, the prosecutor himself being married and knowing what an outsider might expect. The indignant mother-in-law left with the remark:

"That's just the trouble—the poor boy seems to like her cooking, but I know what's good for him—didn't I cook for him for 26 years?"

Made Rat Trap While Waiting Trial in Jail

Mount Vernon, N. Y.—A large rat-trap made by Walter S. Ward, recently acquitted of the killing of Clarence Peters while he was confined in the White Plains county jail, has been kept as the only exhibit of Ward's stay in the jail for six weeks.

The trap is considered a fine piece of carpenter work. It is two feet high, and contains a runway from an opening in one side of the top, where a piece of cheese is hung. The rat enters the spiral stairway, makes a jump for the cheese, falls through the trapdoor into a pall of water and drowns. Sheriff George Werner declares it is the most successful rat-trap he has ever seen.

Bubble in a Sapphire. There is exhibited in the British museum a sapphire weighing nine carats and containing a bubble that appears and disappears with changes of temperature. It is believed that a cavity in the gem encloses a quantity of carbonic acid gas under great pressure. When the temperature is such as to correspond with the "critical point" for the gas, under the particular pressure to which it is subjected in its brilliant prison house, it liquefies and becomes visible as a bubble.

Pity the Egotist. The egotist does not take kindly to criticism, yet because of his exalted opinion of himself is overready to criticize. He is blind to his own mistakes and shortcomings, stubbornly persisting in chosen courses of conduct even after they have cost him dear and their folly has been pointed out to him.

MRS. LOUISE SMITH

Receives $1104.31 Insurance Two Years After Death of Husband.

Mrs. Louise Smith, widow of H. H. Smith of Watt street, was agreeably surprised today when Mr. Samuel Garwood and William Whipple of the insurance firm of Garwood & Whipple of Columbus, general agents of the Midland Mutual Life Insurance company called and presented her with a check for $1104.31 which covered a fifteen year endowment policy on her late husband's life for $1000.

The fact of the company paying the policy is interesting from the point that after three premiums were paid by the insured he allowed it to lapse. The policy was written in 1908. The insured was entitled to benefits under the state law up to October 3, 1923.

On that date the insured would have received the sum of $20. The company wrote Mrs. Smith on the above date as she was the beneficiary, but receiving no reply wrote again and she then notified the company that her husband had died August 19, 1921, two years before the policy had expired, not thinking the policy was of any account it was destroyed. The agents of the company came down and secured proof of death and today presented the widow with a check covering the face of the policy, four and a half per cent compounded $1000 and $104.31 besides which was interest from the time of her husband's death.

COMPROMISE OFFER MADE

Insurgents Would End Deadlock in the Senate.

URGE DROPPING OF CUMMINS

Threat Behind the Offer to Bring About the Election of a Democrat as Chairman of Interstate Commerce Committee—Senators Couzens and Howell Acceptable to the LaFollette Group.

Washington, Dec. 14.—A definite offer of compromise to end the senate deadlock over the election of the chairman of the interstate commerce committee was made to the Republican leaders by the LaFollette group, which has succeeded in blocking the selection of Senator Cummins.

The offer was that if the Republican leaders will agree to drop Cummins and support either Senator Couzens of Michigan or Senator Howell of Nebraska, the LaFollette group will turn over their seven votes and insure the election of one or the other. If this deal went through, the 40 votes given to Cummins, plus the seven LaFollette votes, would be sufficient to elect a chairman.

Republican leaders indicated no willingness to accept the compromise offer, which was agreed upon by the LaFollette group after a long conference in Senator Norris' office.

Behind the offer was the threat of the LaFollette block to bring about the election of Senator Smith of South Carolina, Democrat, unless the Republicans would yield. There were several incidents which strengthened the LaFollette men in making such a threat. First of all was the rumor that Senator Couzens himself was weakening in his support of Cummins and had declared openly that when the next ballot is taken he will vote for Smith unless the Republicans find some other way of breaking the deadlock. Couzens was reported to have stated that he was tired of such "child's play" and would not stick by Cummins any longer, unless he could be elected.

Another incident which figures in the extension of the compromise offer was the possibility that LaFollette himself might be on hand next Monday to cast his vote in favor of Smith, thereby bringing about his election. LaFollette sent word to the capitol that Smith was entirely satisfactory to him, that his vote on the Esch-Cummins law was "regular" and that if LaFollette could not be elected, he would be glad to see Smith made chairman.

If LaFollette is able to vote Smith's election would be made certain, unless other Democrats followed the example set by Bruce of Maryland in deserting the Democratic candidate and voting for Cummins.

In the conference of LaFollette supporters there was some discussion of Senator Howell of Nebraska in addition to Senator Couzens as a compromise candidate. Howell voted for LaFollette on every ballot, whereas Couzens supported Cummins. Both Howell and Couzens have strong views on the transportation question, leaning toward public ownership.

ASKS FOR $25,000

Witter Would Put Compensation Amendment Into Operation.

Columbus, Dec. 14.—Director of Industrial Relations Witter has asked the state emergency board for an appropriation of at least $25,000 to put into operation provisions for accident prevention and investigation in the workmen's compensation amendment adopted at the November election. At the same time Governor Donahey asked Attorney General Crabbe for a ruling whether the governor could put this requested fund under control of the industrial commission, instead of the industrial relations director.

Donahey also asked for a ruling whether he could, by executive order, place all employees in the workman's compensation division of the industrial relations department under the control of the industrial commission, and whether such designation would transfer to the commission the appropriations made for this work by the legislature to the industrial relations department.

Control over employees in the compensation division was taken from the industrial commission by the Davis reorganization code.

DRAFT RESTORED

American Association and Pacific Coast League Sign Agreement.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—The draft was restored to baseball under an agreement reached among the two major leagues, the Pacific Coast league and the American association. The two class AA leagues agreed to a modified draft as presented to them by the majors last year. Under it all optional agreement players and players purchased outright from the major league clubs by the minor leagues are subject to the draft. The price was again set at $5,000. Players developed by the minor leagues and without major league experience are not subject to the draft. The international league refused to take part in the discussion and is not bound by the agreement.

JOHNSON CONDEMNS COMMITTEE'S ACTION

Increase in Number of Southern Delegates Rouses Senator.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Senator Hiram Johnson denounced the action of the Republican national committee in enlarging the apportionment of delegates from southern states as a "repudiation of instructions given by the last national convention."

"The campaign commences with an act repugnant to every sense of fair dealing and just representation," the senator said in a formal statement issued from his office after a long conference with Frank H. Hitchcock, his campaign manager.

Senator Johnson analyzed the effects of the committee's ruling, charging that states which have never cast an electoral vote for the Republican nominees have been given power in the convention equal to that of states which have always been Republican. Because of the "unfair and unjust" representation from southern states in the conventions and the scandals connected with delegates from certain of these states, the convention in 1920 instructed the national committee to adopt a reasonable and just basis of representation, the senator said. This was done, he continued, but the convention's instructions have been disregarded by the committee in its latest action increasing the number of southern delegates.

Senator Johnson declared that notwithstanding the committee's action, he is going ahead rapidly with his plans to make a fight in all the states where presidential primaries are to be held. He announced that Senator Peter Norbeck will head the list of delegates on the South Dakota ballot supporting his candidacy.

Demands Real Rest Room.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Representative Frank Clark, veteran Democrat of Florida, rose in the house and voiced a vigorous protest against an ancient rule which prohibits members from having lounges and such comforts in their offices. Clark said with great feeling: "I regard this rule as a reflection upon the honor and integrity of the members of this house. I bring up the matter now, so that a committee having in charge the furnishing of the offices may take into consideration the necessity for members to have some means of resting a few minutes during the day."

FEDERALS QUIT TWO TOWNS

Evacuation Ordered in Pursuance of Battle Plans.

SANGUINARY STRUGGLE LOOMS

General Amaro's Federal Army About to Engage General Estrada's Rebel Forces in the Vicinity of Guadalajara, in the State of Jalisco—Rebels May Attack the Port of Tampico. Mexican Situation.

Tampico, Mexico, Dec. 14.—Withdrawal by the federal forces from Esperanza, situated on the summit of the mountains forming the border between the states of Vera Cruz and Puebla, is not construed as a rebel victory, according to authoritative information.

Likewise the surrender of the town of Oriental, at the juncture of the states of Tlaxcala and Vera Cruz, is not regarded seriously.

It is declared here in military circles that the evacuation of both points without resistance is probably in pursuance of battle plans for Obregon forces. While Esperanza is at the topmost point of the mountains and overlooking a broad stretch of plains extending towards the national capital, it is a long way to Mexico City, as a spokesman said.

Interest now centers in the forthcoming clash in the vicinity of Guadalajara, in the state of Jalisco, between the forces of General Joaquin Amaro, leading the federals, and General Enrique Estrada, commanding the Huertistas. Guadalajara is the second largest city in the nation, and it is believed a sanguinary struggle will follow when the troops meet, which will probably occur within 24 hours.

General Benecio Lopez, chief of military operations in Tampico and provisional governor of Tamaulipas, appointed a junta government succeeding the resigned mayor and councilmen. The new commission will function pending the induction of regularly elected officials in January.

General Lopez is continuing his efforts to conciliate the striking electricians in Tampico, and has succeeded in establishing operation of the tramways and street lighting, but electricity in the homes and for pumping water for commercial uses has not been restored.

H. S. Leach, manager of the electric company, is expected to sail for the United States. He is being deported by presidential decree as a "pernicious foreigner."

Tampico, being next in importance to Vera Cruz, it is not believed that the revolutionaries can succeed without gaining control of this port. The only possibility of attack would be from the gulf by gunboats, which are affiliated with the Huertistas. The number of ships which revolted at Vera Cruz is not known, but the total force is only about eight boats, which probably would be ineffectual.

TO SOUND FRANCE

Germany Would Know Conditions For Reparations Settlement.

Berlin, Dec. 14.—Germany is about to ask France to name the conditions for a reparations settlement and to state definitely what she intends to do with the Rhineland and Ruhr.

Former Minister Stresemann declared he will ask Premier Poincare whether he intends to keep the Ruhr and Rhineland permanently or only as pawns; and whether the committee of the reparations commission shall investigate the ability to pay of Germany, including the Rhineland and Ruhr, or of a rump Germany without the occupied regions. The aim of this is to start negotiations between Berlin and Paris concerning the investigation through the reparations commission. Stresemann declared that France is not averse to suggestions, in view of the statements in the press that Germany should make a new reparations offer and appoint a new ambassador to France.

Pastor's Wife a Witness.

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 14.—"I do not like his kisses, but it would be nice to handle his money," is what Miss Louise V. Dodge, New York business woman, who is suing James A. Goodrich, attorney, for $150,000 breach of promise, is alleged to have told her confidante, Mrs. Clayton J. Potter, wife of a local pastor. Mrs. Potter was a witness for the defense. She said she had several conversations with Miss Dodge and was familiar with the fact that she frequently met Mr. Goodrich at his home.

Popa is not expected to live, though his wife will recover, physicians say. The couple had separated. Popa is said to have gone to his wife's residence and shot her through the shoulder, later turning the gun on himself.

Charged With Bigamy.

Cleveland, Dec. 14.—Percy Brittain, charged with assault and forcible marriage by his second wife, who said she married him only under the persuasive influence of a revolver, is under arrest. Police took him into custody on a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Minnie Lewis Brittain, recently of Akron. A new warrant was sworn out charging Brittain with bigamy.

No Evidence of Foul Play.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 14.—Coroner L. E. Grimes and Prosecutor C. A. Maxwell conducted a formal inquest into the death of Roy Murphy, who died from a knife wound at the Elliott school social Nov. 27. Nothing to indicate foul play was disclosed. Death from an accidentally self-inflicted wound was the coroner's verdict.

Must Die in Chair.

Cadiz, O., Dec. 14.—Mike Sepich, Duncanwood, must die in the electric chair for the murder of his wife, according to a decision of the Seventh district court of appeals. Sepich had appealed from the verdict of the Harrison county jury, which found him guilty of first degree murder.

Gored to Death.

Sandusky, O., Dec. 14.—Vernon H. Hill, 40, farmer, was gored to death at his home west of Castalia, near here, by a vicious bull, which attacked him when he entered a field to feed stock penned there. Hill's chest was crushed and he was otherwise injured.

Insanity Plea For Fox.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 14.—The defense in the case of Philip E. Fox, on trial for the murder of William S. Coburn, entered a plea of insanity. The plea was in an address by Frank A. Hooper, Sr., attorney for defense, who reviewed Fox's life and declared "there existed traces of insanity in the defendant's family." Mr. Hooper declared that Fox was suffering from overwork and that "he was not in a sane mind when he shot down the attorney."

Edwin C. McWatty, president of the McWatty Corset company, fell eight stories from his window of the Hotel Royal, New York, and was instantly killed.

WANT AMERICA TO HOLD ALOOF

Republican Senators Against Reparations Proposal.

ARE SKEPTICAL OF RESULTS

Extension of The Hague Tribunal to Make It a Real World Court Favored by All Republican Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Save Lenroot, Who Fosters Hughes' Proposal.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Republican leaders in the senate are not only opposed to American participation in the reparations adjustment, but have taken unkindly the suggestion from the president that "unofficial experts" should represent the United States in the conference.

Republican members of the foreign relations committee have failed to see that any good might come of it, and at the same time have been unable to learn exactly what the president's proposal means.

In addition to this, all of the Republican members of the committee, with the possible exception of Lenroot of Wisconsin, are opposed to the president's proposal to put the United States into the world court created by the league of nations. Nine of the 10 Republicans favor extension of The Hague tribunal to make it a real world court, but will fight any proposal for American membership in a court in any way affiliated with the league.

Senator Lenroot follows Secretary Hughes in believing that the United States can join the league court and become a member of it, and at the same time protect itself with a "reservation" denying that membership in the league court means that the United States has anything to do with the league. Lenroot introduced a resolution to join the court on these terms the day after President Coolidge delivered his message, and after showing Hughes a draft of the resolution.

While none of the other Republicans on the committee accept the view of Hughes and Lenroot that the United States can join the league court and still not be part of it, Lenroot intends to do what he can to get his resolution acted upon. Lodge, Brandegee, Moses, Borah, Johnson, McCormick, Wadsworth, Pepper and Willis are against him, however, and also against the president in his support of the Hughes idea of a world court. If anything whatever comes out of the committee's discussions of the court idea, it will be solely along the lines of building up The Hague tribunal, already in existence, and conferring upon it powers which might have some effect upon maintenance of world peace.

NO TRACE OF KORETZ

Millions Reported Entrusted to the Missing Promoter.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Chicagoans whose names are familiar on bank directories and in exclusive clubs held their breath as the story of Leo S. Koretz, lawyer and promoter, was unfolded. Koretz is gone, leaving no accounting that the authorities can find of millions entrusted to him. The amount involved was variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. Every hour brought fresh reports of investments made through Koretz, who is being hunted by land, on the sea and in the air. But no trace has been found. While the hunt went on relatives of the missing promoter came forward and offered to restore $300,000 they had accumulated through Koretz.

The tropics appealed to Koretz. It was for ventures in Panama and the southern part of the United States that the vast sums of money were entrusted to him. Oil, rice and lumber were the great products used by Koretz to fire the imagination of his friends and cause them to want to "get in on the ground floor," according to the state's attorney. They were really three corporations, one for the development of each of the products.

Strike in Austria Ended.

Vienna, Dec. 14.—The strike of Austrian civil service employees in the postoffices, telegraphs and telephone department has come to an end. An agreement was reached between the committee of the strikers and the government, but it is subject to approval by the employees' union. The issue in the strike which kept Austria paralyzed and isolated for three days was a question of wage increase of $1 a month.

GAVE SUICIDE PARTY

Girl Artist Leaps From Fifth Story of New York Hotel.

New York, Dec. 14.—Anita Butcliffe, 23, artist and very beautiful, gave a suicide luncheon to 26 girl friends at the Hotel Brevoort. Sitting at the head of the table, amid jollity and laughter, Anita suddenly announced: "Girls, I'm going on a long, long journey."

The guests took chairs in the parlors, discussing Anita's wonderful trip that she was going to make to "somewhere." And while they talked Anita had started climbing the Brevoort's stairs. When she reached the fifth floor she stepped on a fire escape. A second later she crashed through the top of a sedan, five stories below her. Passing detectives rushed her into a commandeered automobile to St. Vincent's hospital. Her right arm and right wrist were fractured, and she may have internal injuries. Physicians say she has a fair chance of life.

Lord Douglas Found Guilty.

London, Dec. 14.—Lord Alfred Douglas was found guilty of libeling Winston Churchill and sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Lord Alfred charged that Churchill, while secretary of the navy, had falsified a communique issued after the battle of Jutland.

THEIR FIRST FUNCTION

President and Mrs. Coolidge Entertain Diplomatic Corps.

Washington, Dec. 14.—President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained at their first state function last night—a reception to the diplomatic corps. The white house took on a color and brightness not seen since the days of 1914, when the world was plunged into war. Foreign diplomats in court dress, their wives in the latest Paris creations, army and navy officers in their gaudy dress uniforms, jewelry worth a king's ransom, and gold braid, made the scene one of unprecedented splendor.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge received their guests in the celebrated blue room after a long established custom. At their left were the secretary of state and Mrs. Hughes, and the cabinet officers, according to their rank. The French ambassador and Mrs. Jusserand, dean of the diplomatic corps by virtue of longest service in Washington, were the first to be received.

Seed Corn Shortage Seen.

Columbus, Dec. 14.—Farm crop specialists at Ohio State university say Ohio farmers will face a seed corn shortage next spring almost as severe as that of 1918, unless more than the usual precautions are taken now. It is pointed out that corn fields in nearly all parts of the state so far this fall have produced corn inferior in quality and with a dangerously high moisture content. Early frosts caused the high moisture content, and a severe wind storm in some parts of Ohio helped to lower the quality.

It's All in the Day

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

(©, 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"OH, DEAR, nothing ever happens to me," sighed Milly, as she made her way down to the office, "and now the boss is going bankrupt. I wish"—she paused in her mental speech—"I wish somebody would run away with me, fat, thin, old, young, married or single."

Kramer had a small office, but did a large business. Milly was his stenographer, and there were two or three other girls, but they didn't count. Milly was "it," as far as Kramer was concerned.

She opened the morning's letters, and whistled as she saw the return address on one of the envelopes which she did not open. That was Kramer's private business. Milly knew Kramer was running a good many sidelines.

She was waiting for him when he came in. She saw by the look on his face that the worst had happened. He dictated a few letters and then laid down his papers.

"Miss James," he said, "I'm finished. I'm hopelessly in debt. I can't face the racket. I'm going to beat it West tonight."

"I'm sorry," said Milly vaguely. "Do I get my pay?"

"The other girls do. Not you."

"How's that?" asked Milly.

"Because I'm going to take you with me," answered Kramer.

"But—but I thought you were married?" stammered Milly.

"So I am. Too much married. But I had the devil's row with my wife this morning over the household expenses, and I'm through with her. She's never been a wife to me. I want you instead. What d'you say?"

"Nothing doing," said Milly, though she remembered her wish of that morning and was sorely tempted. She was very fond of Kramer.

"Just as you say," said Kramer after a pause. "I guess you get your money, then."

"You see," said Milly, "it wouldn't work out. I know all about that sideline. You'd get tired of me. What's the matter with your wife? She looks all right to me."

"Oh, there's nothing much the matter with her, except that I'm sick of her," said Kramer. "I suppose I'll have to go alone, then."

"Why don't you try to face things? Isn't there any chance?"

"Not the ghost of one. If I could have sold that patent I was interested in I'd have enough money to fix things fine. But they haven't even had the courtesy to answer my letter about it."

"Who?"

"Why, the Renault company."

"Oh, I meant to give you this letter from them," said Milly, placing it on his desk.

Kramer grabbed it and opened it. Next moment he emitted a whoop of delight.

"Read that, you girl!" he shouted.

"Keep cool," said Milly. "I'm not the only girl in this joint. They'll think you're murdering me."

She read the letter. It was from the Renault company, and they stated that they had been investigating the matter of the patent, were satisfied that it was a good commercial proposition, and were willing to pay the sum Kramer had asked.

"Whoop!" said Kramer. "I fixed that figure as a bluff. Never thought they'd fall for it. Expected half as much. That puts everything to rights. Your salary's raised ten dollars a week after this month—no, after next."

A tap at the door interrupted them. A tall, handsome, stately looking woman appeared upon the threshold.

"Dan, I must have some money, and it's no use talking," she said.

Dan Kramer arose from his desk, seized the tall, handsome, stately looking woman around the waist, and waltzed her protestingly around the office.

"Have you gone madder than usual, Dan?" she asked.

"No, honey, we're going to be millionaires in a few months, that's all," said Dan. "You know Miss James, my stenographer? I want you two to get acquainted. We're going to take her out to lunch. Ready, Miss James?"

"Oh, I guess so," answered Milly. "It's all in the day's work, Mr. Kramer."

A Slam at Dad.

The daughter of a certain strict-principled old deacon had attended a dance the previous night, much against her father's wishes. When she appeared for breakfast the next morning, he greeted her with the words:

"Good morning, daughter of Satan."

To which the maiden respectfully replied:

"Good morning, father."—Cornell Widow.

Keep Up Your Confidence.

The majority of failures began to deteriorate by doubting or depreciating themselves or by losing confidence in their own ability. The moment you harbor doubt and begin to lose faith in yourself you capitulate to the enemy. Every time you acknowledge weakness, inefficiency or lack of ability you weaken your self-confidence, and that is to undermine the very foundation of all achievement.—Orison Swett Marden in Chicago Daily News.

Benefit in Wearing Glasses.

Wearing glasses does not weaken the eyes. This effect is apparent because the eye gives up straining and reveals the full necessity for glasses. Often eyes become so strengthened by the rest thus given that after a time the glasses are no longer needed.

CHARLES I LED IN ARTCRAFT

Declared He Could Make His Living at Any Trade Save That of Hanging.

"Little Korea, now being urged by its leaders to use only articles of Korean manufacture," says Horace B. Cheny, "is advocating nationalism in art and industry today just as Charles I did during his reign.

"The Jacobean period of decoration has been called the most distinctly national of the English periods; for while largely inspired by Low Country models, it was yet developed originally by English craftsmen. And these had displaced the foreign workers of Elizabethan times.

"The Jacobean period was ushered in with James I. 'The Wisest Fool in Christendom,' but not until the times of Charles, 'saint and martyr,' were its possibilities of beauty fully developed.

"Charles was the spirit of its efflorescence. He, like Francis I and Lorenzo the Magnificent, loved beauty for its own sake. Indeed, he was himself a craftsman, saying of himself, 'I believe I could make my living by any trade save that of making hangings.' The friend of Rubens, the patron of the brilliant Van Dyck, a connoisseur who was also a king—and yet a king, alas, 'who knew all the arts except the art of governing.'

"In his reign, the turned and twisted woodwork of his father's day came to a softer, more delicately crafted beauty, and the characteristics of modern renaissance ornament manifested themselves in geometrically patterned arrangements and a growing use of inlay. The great hall (still the most important feature of the majestic English home), was then indeed a thing of stately splendor—rich with tapestries and hangings, warm with paneling, exquisite with ornamental ceilings, mantelpieces and lofty bay windows."

Well, it will give us something to talk about, when we do go.

Great Variety of New Fall Models

Dame Fashion Offers Many Numbers; Any Taste Can Be Satisfied.

That extremely useful and becoming "little black and white frock" is from all accounts the most favored Parisian creation of the moment, observes a fashion correspondent in the Milwaukee Sentinel. Its simplicity and practicality endear it at once to the woman of moderate income and good taste. Any number of quaint and unusual little touches are permissible so long as that simplicity is left intact; for this is the frock that is as much at home on the street as in the tea room of a particularly smart hotel.

Another frock is of black satin, with a normal waistline, slightly circular skirt and long fitted sleeves. Its distinctive touch of white is in the three frills of plaited organdie which adorn the lower part of the sleeve. Each point is a fashion feature in itself.

Another model is of black flat crepe; the skirt is made with two uneven tiers and a straight hemline. The bodice is perfectly straight and belted low with a narrow belt of self material, and the smart collar and cuffs are of white organdie edged with footling and fastened with small crystal buttons.

Never were fabrics more beautiful than those which will be worn this season. The new weaves have arrived, a forecast of a generous mode that the fall trend of fashion brings—laces, velvets, twills, brocades, satins and plaided wool.

Serge occupies a cherished position, but this season it is called "twill," under various names. A very fine-grained twill is known as cardinette, and closely resembles Poiré twill. Charmen seems to be the favored fabric for dresses, both the plain coat dress and the more elaborately tiered, flounced and braided types. It is a fine—oh, ever so fine—twill, in navy, brown, black and gray.

Easy to Make Vanity

Table for Your Room

When a woman has learned the secret of remodeling and redecorating her furniture, she can revel in fixing up her home to her heart's content. The vogue for hand painting a piece of furniture started by being a necessity, and has ended up by becoming a favorite pastime.

Nowadays, many women are even making their own furniture. One of the daintiest dressing tables imaginable can be made out of a big, ordinary packing box. Simply remove one side of the box, install a few shelves, glue some material over the whole thing and trim it with decorative ribbon. This may be done by crossing two six-inch bands of satin ribbon over the top, tying a bow on each corner and allowing streamers to hang to the floor. Edge the curtains gathered across the opening of the box with shirred ribbon. If contrasting colors are used, the effect will be still prettier. Violet and lemon yellow, for example, combine to make an exquisite boudoir color arrangement. Cover the wooden frame of an ordinary mirror with ribbon, suspend it over the disguised box with ribbon streamers and behold! you have a vanity table fit for a princess.

All of the toilet accessories on the table can also be ribbon trimmed. The most satisfactory way to put the material on the wooden box and the ribbon on the mirror and toilet articles is to use glue. The best quality of liquid glue is perfectly safe and is easier and quicker than sewing.

OHIO TEACHERS

Superintendent Eagleson Will Make an Address at Columbus Meeting.

"The Young Teacher" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Professor J. O. Eagleson, superintendent of Circleville schools before the City Superintendents Department at the winter meeting of the Ohio Teachers' association to be held in Columbus city, December 26-28. Professor Charles S. Meek, superintendent of schools at Toledo, will preside.

The meeting promises to be one of the most important in the history of the association because of the prominence of the speakers and the deep interest shown in the subjects to be discussed. During the administration of President R. F. Kiefer of Niles, the association has taken in 5000 new members and hopes to have a total membership of 30,000 by the close of the school year in June. The organization is planning to take a more active part in public affairs in Ohio especially as they affect the schools and the teaching profession, permanent headquarters having been opened in Columbus with Secretary-Treasurer F. E. Reynolds in charge.

Announcement has just been made that the famous Aladdin Shrine chorus of Columbus, will sing for the teachers. President Harding was a member of Aladdin Temple and the chorus sang for him at the White House and at the Imperial Council of the Shrine in Washington last June. A concert by an All-State High School orchestra will be another musical feature of the gathering.

Early Paper Making.

Papyrus, from which the word paper is derived, is not paper at all, and the beginnings of the paper industry are not traced back to it, but to the genuine paper made by the Chinese, from whom it spread to other races and then to Europe in the twelfth century. About the year 1150 a paper mill was started at Fabriano, Italy, which became the principal center for paper making, continuing to the present day. From Italy the art spread to France and Germany and somewhat later to England.

When Woman Proposes.

It was not leap year when Queen Victoria offered her heart and hand to Prince Albert, whom etiquette prevented from proposing to the queen of England, but Sir Robert Peel declared that his sovereign was "as full of love as Juliet," and the marriage, which was solemnized in leap year, proved a union of perfect bliss.

Loses Hard Fought Game to West Park Baracas Thursday Night.

In one of the best and fastest games of basket ball ever, the local quintet lost a heart breaking game of basket ball to the West Park Baracas Thursday night.

It was one of those games over which there will always be a doubt as to whether or not the visitors really were entitled to a victory, since the referee's decision on one play in the latter part of the game gave the visitors two points which spectators say they were not entitled to. Rather or not the referee's decision was correct is the question. Most of those present say not but the decision was made and stands and we can do no more than say the best team last and be satisfied.

The local quintet played flawless basketball thruout showing a fighting unsurpassable, scoring nineteen of the total points earned but it was made possible for him to do this by the earnest cooperation of the other players on the team. Hoover showing up best for the visitors.

It is to be lamented that the boys had to loose the game on a fluke but we can console ourselves by saying: "For when the one great scorer comes To write against our name He writes not that we won or lost But how we played the game."

The score follows:

Every Man Will Have One!

Sedentary workers—those who sit at their work—especially might note that if they have the habit of crossing their legs, then can't break themselves of it, they should have a clean duster, or a remnant of soft cloth, and lay it on the under leg. That at once stops the shine and wear that follows "crossing." And, as a duster is not always at hand, and "crossing" is always a temptation, best to cut the crossing habit clean out. A real and most saving economy.—London Answers.

FIRE ON COURT STREET.

Smoke filled the home of Miss Sallie Lynch, 119 South Court street today. On investigation Miss Lynch found the cellar door in the rear of her home on fire. She quickly extinguished the blaze and called the fire department by telephone, thinking perhaps the fire had got between the weatherboarding, but this was not the case. The only way that the blaze could have started was from a pile of trash Miss Lynch had burned in the yard early this morning. The damage done by the blaze was slight.

AMUSEMENTS

Agnes Ayres' latest Paramount starring vehicle, "The Heart Raider," proved to be a delightfully entertaining production at its premier at the Metropolitan theater last evening.

This picture, a light comedy of love and adventure directed by Wesley Ruggles, is an ideal vehicle for Miss Ayers. The star, in the role of Muriel Gray, a speedy girl member of the fast social set at Palm Beach is known as one who gets everything she sets her heart on. And when she decides to win John Dennis, a wealthy bachelor, he turns her down. When he decides to escape in his yacht, she swims out to the vessel and on getting aboard induces the captain to permit her to remain. When Dennis discovers her the next morning, dressed in a bathing suit and sou-wester, he decides to put her ashore. A severe storm arises, and then follow several thrilling scenes and a decidedly novel climax.

Supporting the star is a superb cast which includes among others, Mahlon Hamilton, Charles Ruggles, Frazer Coulter, Marie Burke and Charles Riegel.

"Palmy Days."

The origin of the phrase, "palmy days," arises from a custom of the ancient Romans. A victorious gladiator received a palm branch as a symbolic reward for his brave deeds.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Benefit in Joy Giving.

When you once get started in joy giving it's easy to keep it up. The fact that you give joy brings candidates for your magic touch constantly before you. The returning benefits of having given joy keep your supplied with the means of joy giving. So you just direct the ever enlarging stream that through you ministers to your fellows. And your own joy increases with each new expression of your good will. The joy giving habit grows upon you and you would be perfectly miserable without the chance of helping others to happier days. It's real joy.—Grit

TOAST TO WORLD'S LAST WAR

Bottle of Ancient Wine to Be Passed
On, to Be Drunk When Strife Ends.

When the world fights its last war, some veteran of an American war may drink a bottle of wine preserved for years for the coming of such an event.

The wine recently occupied the place of honor on the banquet table of the Last Man club, formed from the survivors of Company B, First Minnesota Volunteers, a Civil war organization. The club was formed thirty years ago, with 34 members. There was an understanding that a reunion should be held each year. The wine was presented to the club on its organization, and it was agreed that the last survivor should attend the banquet, and drink the rare old wine to the vacant chairs of his departed comrades.

This year only three were present at the meeting, which was held in Stillwater, Minn., on the anniversary of the battle of Bull Run. Peter Hall, president of the club, declared during the meeting that the requirements of the constitution would make the last occasion too sorrowful, and suggested another way to mark the passing of the organization. He offered a plan that the last two survivors should drink a toast, seal the remainder of the wine in the bottle, and pass it on to the American Legion in Stillwater, with similar stipulation as to its retention, or until all nations join to make war impossible. Thus, the Stillwater Legion men are expected to become possessors of the wine, perhaps to be passed on to some other veterans' organization founded from another American war.

Peter Hall, Atwater, Minn.; John Goff, a guest at the Minneapolis Soldiers' home; and Charles Lockwood, Chamberlain, S. D., were the guests at this year's meeting. One other survivor, Emil Graff, of St. Cloud, Fla., was kept from the meeting because of physical infirmities.

The unique event attracted national attention, and the proposal to pass on the rare wine to the American Legion, not to be touched until war has become impossible, has resulted in considerable speculation as to whether the World War veterans would drink the final toast.

ISSUES 'HOME LOAN' WARNING

Legion Officials Caution Oregon Veterans Against Assuming Too Heavy Financial Burdens.

Unscrupulous dealers in real estate are said to have taken advantage of former service men in the state of Oregon, which by law has provided for a "home loan" feature of compensation for veterans. Officials of the American Legion, to whom have been reported a number of instances in which the veteran has faced loss of his investment, have issued a communication to members of that organization, warning them against assuming too heavy a financial burden under the plan.

The law, as passed by the state legislature, was intended by its sponsors to finance the purchase of homes or farms for veterans, when they have sufficient income to carry the payments. According to the Legion leaders, certain real estate men are showing a tendency to depreciate or discount the loan of the veteran, or to demand additional cash down. Some firms have claimed that the plan outlined by the law was not feasible to handle, and that the business was conducted at a loss.

There have been 400 bonus loans in Oregon to date, according to the records of the state officials. Of this number, only seven veterans face foreclosure on property, a refutation of the statement that realty dealers had found the plan unsuccessful.

The principal difficulty has been, Legion investigators say, to keep the veterans from paying too much for homes or farms. Payments on property selling at $5,000 or more are heavy, and veterans are urged to consider the fact that in case they have put a second mortgage on their place to a realty dealer, they must pay the state a certain sum in addition to that due the real estate man.

SUPPORT OF LEGION ASSURED

Religious and Fraternal Organizations Pledge Aid to Work of World War Men.

Unanimous support by numerous religious and fraternal organizations of the American Legion was pledged at a recent meeting of these groups held in Washington. A resolution adopted at the gathering quoted the preamble to the Legion's constitution, and then continued:

"We heartily approve this statement and the American Legion as a great organization composed of men and women who served their country in the World War, earnestly hoping that they will continue to serve their country in time of peace with the same patriotic devotion that animated them in the days when they wore the uniform. We pledge them our cordial support, wishing them all success and every blessing as they pursue these high ideals."

Organizations joining in the tribute were the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Young Men's Christian Association, American Red Cross and National Catholic Welfare Council.

Too High Up to See Him.

A man about town meeting a friend who had recently become a judge extended his congratulations and then said: "And I will now tell you good-bye."

"Why," asked his honor; "are you going away?"

"No."

"Neither am I. So why this good-bye?"

"It is this way," explained the party of the first part. "I have known many men who became judges, governors or what not. After their elevation very few of them were able to see me again."

Jeanette always expects something when her father comes home. One day just as he entered she said: "What have you got today, daddy?" SEATTLE HEALTHY CITY FOR BABES

Has Lowest Mortality in the United States.

RATE FOR THE YEAR IS 49

Of the twenty-five largest cities in the United States, all of more than 250,000 population, Seattle, Wash., was the healthiest for infants in 1922, according to infant mortality statistics, just published by the American Child Health association, of which Herbert Hoover is president.

Seattle's infant mortality rate for the year was 49, which means that that number of infants under one year of age died out of every thousand born. The next four cities in order were Minneapolis, 53; Portland, Ore., 56; San Francisco, 57, and St. Louis, 59.

The rate for New York city, including all five boroughs, was 75, and for Chicago, second largest city, 85. As well as having lowest rates, where the large cities were concerned, Western states also made the best average rates, when taking into consideration all cities of more than 10,000 population, of which there are 635 included in the report.

Oregon with four cities within this classification, had the best average rate, 58.8. Nine cities in the state of Washington were second with 58.9; eleven cities in Minnesota, third, with 60.3; twenty-five cities in California, fourth, with 64.6, and five cities in Nebraska, fifth, with 65.8.

The American Child Health association's report has become an annual compilation published to stimulate interest in measures to aid in the reduction of infant mortality the country over. The association is waging a vigorous campaign to arouse parents and teachers to a child health consciousness, and for a nation of healthier babies. Among its efforts are the distribution of scholarships for doctors, teachers and nurses in health work, and instructions, through teaching and literature, for the mother, and for the safe care of children from birth through the school age.

The twenty-five cities of more than 250,000 population ranked by infant mortality rate for 1922 were as follows:

Rank by Population	City	Infant Mortality Rate
20	Seattle	49
18	Minneapolis	53
24	Portland, Ore.	56
12	San Francisco	57
6	St. Louis	59
8	Bronx	66
2	Brooklyn	72
10	Los Angeles	73
16	Cincinnati	74

21	Indianapolis	76
12	Queens	76

15	Newark	78

4	Detroit	87
8	Baltimore	89
7	Boston	93
9	Pittsburgh	96

In addition to the rate for New York city, including all its boroughs, save Richmond, which is below 250,000 in population, the rate for the individual boroughs are also given.

TAKES FIRST HORSE RIDE

School Teacher in Oregon Never Rode in Buggy.

It was not uncommon some years ago to hear of a man or woman who had never seen a steam engine or electric cars, but the present days it appears that an antithesis to the rule appears occasionally.

At a school district in Catherine Creek district east of Union, Ore., Miss Helen Cantine, twenty years old, a school teacher, never rode in a vehicle drawn by horses until recently, when she made a five-mile trip to attend a charrivari, being conveyed the entire distance in a buggy. Miss Cantine, who formerly made her home in Portland, enjoyed the ride immensely. Miss Cantine is now taking horseback riding lessons and expects to be proficient in handling the reins within a short time.

BAN ON RABBIT IN GERMANY

Hungry Thieves Take Bunnies Inoculated With Germs.

Heidelberg, Germany, is passing through a "poisoned rabbit" scare. Stewed rabbit, formerly a popular dish at the students' boarding houses, and also among the professors of Heidelberg university, for the time is banned everywhere.

All this results from the act of hungry thieves who broke into the medical laboratories of the university recently and made away with two cages of rabbits which had been inoculated with typhoid and other germs.

Police have been instructed to shoot at sight any rabbit seen at large.

OLDTIME DOLLS

Display Case at Public Library of Much Interest to Little Folks.

The Circleville Public Library has a display case filled with things to interest the tiny tots—the favorite old fairy tales, nursery rhymes and modern stories in attractive picture books. These are the stories that delight the smallest children when read or told to them. The attractiveness of the exhibit is added to by illustrative toys loaned by Hamilton's, Wilder's Cash Store and Closson's. The exhibit case has been loaned to the library by Crist & Mason.

It is planned for next week to have an exhibit of old-time toys and trinkets that made Christmas for the children of long ago. If you have any, please telephone the library. Two doll cradles, one sixty and the other over a hundred years old, have been promised. Old-time dolls are especially wanted. What have you among your treasures?

Wanted a Demonstration.

Louise had the habit of running to her mother for a hug and a kiss at frequent intervals during the day. One day she stood before her mother, who was busy knitting, for some moments without getting any attention. Finally Louise said: "Do you love me, mamma?" "Yes, dear," from mother. Louise waited a moment longer without receiving the accustomed caress, then burst out with, "Well, why don't you love me by hand?"

Real Help.

It is the easiest thing in the world to turn a poor fellow off when he comes with a big lump in his heart by saying, "Here's a dollar. Go and have a good time with it." And all the time what he needs is a hand under his elbow and a lift over the road that is stony.

SCHOOL ANNUAL

Sale Contest is On—Next Book Will be of Special Interest.

A High School Annual selling campaign is now in progress in Circleville. The campaign is being carried on in the form of a contest between junior and senior classes. The class that sells the most annuals before Wednesday, December 19, will be allowed to have their flag on the school for two days. As would be expected much class spirit is being created and both sides are working hard to win the honors.

The reduction of the price makes it possible for more people to buy and naturally we expect a larger circulation this year than ever has been before. The size of the annual has been increased and every possible effort is being put forth to increase the quality of it. The 1924 annual will be of special interest to the alumni. The name, address and occupation of every person who has been graduated from the Circleville high school in the last ten years will be included in this volume. An annual is a reminder of the days gone by. It is a book that should be cherished by every true friend of the high school.

Remember that the sale of the Annuals is not limited to the high school pupils so be prepared to give your subscription to one of the salesman that will call on you before next Wednesday. 13dec23.

CHRISTMAS TREE

Gifts May be Left at Hamilton & Ryan's Drug Store.

Our Community Christmas Tree needs your thought. It stands cold and bare awaiting the touch of Christmas goodwill to make it breathe the fellowship of the Christmas spirit. The committee in charge has designated Hamilton & Ryan's drug store as the receiving stations for the gifts of money and toys that are to make possible the transformation of the spirit which the tree symbolizes. Bring your toys, bring your contributions. Remind your thoughtless neighbor that he, too, has a part in our community celebration. When you see the Christmas tree jar in your grocery just remember that it is there to enable you to do your bit. It is for all of us to have our part in making the community our community. Quinine.

Quinine is used in great quantities in the United States and an enormous sum is annually paid for the imported drug, most of which comes from South America, its source being the cinchona tree, which is found over an area of great diversity of soil and climate, the principal cinchona belt being a strip 100 miles wide and 2,000 miles long. Many trees are found growing at altitudes of 2,500 to 9,000 feet above sea level.

U. S. REFUGEES RESCUED FROM REDS IN SIBERIA

Americans Flee Russian Guards and Land in Seattle.

Seattle, Wash.—Four American refugees from the Arctic coast of Siberia, rescued by the United States coast guard cutter Bear, after living for months in fear of Red guards, who threatened confiscation of their property and even death, arrived here recently on the coast guard cutter Halda.

The four were: Carl Johnson, famous dog team racer of Nome, Alaska, and winner of the 1910 and 1911 Solomon Derby races, his Russian wife and their son, Chester, fourteen months old, and W. H. Parsons of Tacoma, Wash. Johnson and Parsons were employees of the Phoenix Northern Trading company of Tacoma, who were left at their posts in Siberia when the trading schooner Iskum escaped from Anadyr in defiance of soviet authorities.

Parsons was picked up by the Bear off East Cape, Siberia, as he was trying to escape to American waters in a small boat, braving the gales of the Arctic rather than remain in what he described as "daily fear of my life," at his post at Senalavine strait.

Parsons said thousands of dollars worth of valuable furs were confiscated at the two trading posts by Red guards, under pain of death if resistance were offered.

"Six soldiers, heavily armed," he said, "came to my post and read an order of confiscation. The officer in charge displayed a long revolver and warned me that I would be killed if I resisted. The order was signed by Governor Burke of the district, who was formerly connected, I was told, with the Russian consulate at San Francisco."

"We Americans prayed every day that an American vessel would come and rescue us. Every American in that part of Siberia is in some sort of trouble and virtually all of the cases have been 'framed.'"

"We heard innumerable grewsome stories of persons along the coast engaged in trading, who had mysteriously disappeared."

According to Parsons, the soldiers who seized the furs were conscript troops and wore no uniforms, although they were heavily armed.

Mr. Johnson went to Siberia three years ago and met his Russian wife at Indian Point, a remote post on the Arctic. There was no minister within 1,000 miles, but Captain Kelley Olsen, master of the Iskum, decided he could marry the couple on the high seas. A wedding party was formed and the little schooner worked its way out through the ice, past the three-mile limit, and the ceremony was performed.

Angler Lands 80-Pound Fish After Hard Fight

Galveston, Tex.—Bathers at Galveston beach recently were given a free exhibition of the art of angling in its highest form when W. C. Dewyn, resident of the city, landed a huge 80-pound tarpon at the beach fishing pier after a struggle lasting 45 minutes.

The silver king was the first on record taken at the beach this year. The fish, in making long leaps from the water in efforts to free itself, caused a great commotion among bathers in the vicinity and bathing pleasures of the moment were given over to the greater attraction. Scales larger than silver dollars were torn from the monster by about 200 souvenir hunters who crowded around after the fish was landed.

In making the catch Mr. Dewyn used a regular tarpon tackle.

The fish is believed to be the largest of its kind landed in Galveston waters this season.

Fears Daughter-in-Law's Cooking Will Kill Son

St. Clairville, Ohio.—An elderly woman called at the office of Prosecutor Herbert W. Mitchell recently and complained that her son, residing in a remote section of Belmont county, is being slowly starved to death because his bride won't use the same methods of cooking as employed by the mother-in-law. The latter wanted the prosecutor to interfere to save her son's life.

Mitchell told the complainant that the young man should speak for himself to the bride, the prosecutor himself being married and knowing what an outsider might expect. The indignant mother-in-law left with the remark:

"That's just the trouble—the poor boy seems to like her cooking, but I know what's good for him—didn't I cook for him for 26 years?"

Made Rat Trap While Waiting Trial in Jail

Mount Vernon, N. Y.—A large rat-trap made by Walter S. Ward, recently acquitted of the killing of Clarence Peters while he was confined in the White Plains county jail, has been kept as the only exhibit of Ward's stay in the jail for six weeks.

The trap is considered a fine piece of carpenter work. It is two feet high, and contains a runway from an opening in one side of the top, where a piece of cheese is hung. The rat enters the spiral stairway, makes a jump for the cheese, falls through the trapdoor into a pail of water and drowns. Sheriff George Werner declares it is the most successful rat-trap he has ever seen.

Bubble in a Sapphire.
There is exhibited in the British museum a sapphire weighing nine carats and containing a bubble that appears and disappears with changes of temperature. It is believed that a cavity in the gem encloses a quantity of carbonic acid gas under great pressure. When the temperature is such as to correspond with the "critical point" for the gas, under the particular pressure to which it is subjected in its brilliant prison house, it liquefies and becomes visible as a bubble.

Pity the Egotist.
The egotist does not take kindly to criticism, yet because of his exalted opinion of himself is overready to criticize. He is blind to his own mistakes and shortcomings, stubbornly persisting in chosen courses of conduct even after they have cost him dear and their folly has been pointed out to him.

MRS. LOUISE SMITH

Receives $1104.31 Insurance Two Years After Death of Husband.

Mrs. Louise Smith, widow of H. H. Smith of Watt street, was agreeably surprised today when Mr. Samuel Garwood and William Whipple of the insurance firm of Garwood & Whipple of Columbus, general agents of the Midland Mutual Life Insurance company called and presented her with a check for $1104.31 which covered a fifteen year endowment policy on her late husband's life for $1000.

The fact of the company paying the policy is interesting from the point that after three premiums were paid by the insured he allowed it to lapse. The policy was written in 1908. The insured was entitled to benefits under the state law up to October 3, 1923.

On that date the insured would have received the sum of $20. The company wrote Mrs. Smith on the above date as she was the beneficiary, but receiving no reply wrote again and she then notified the company that her husband had died August 19, 1921, two years before the policy had expired, not thinking the policy was of any account it was destroyed. The agents of the company came down and secured proof of death and today presented the widow with a check covering the face of the policy, four and a half per cent compounded $1000 and $104.31 besides which was interest from the time of her husband's death.
